

I feel that the DO NOT CALL reforms in NJ and federally should remain strong and those who do not want to be called should have the right to decide that for themselves. The people who take the time to put themselves on a Do Not Call list are declaring that they do not want the intrusion of telemarketers in their homes and that decision should be respected. I do not feel that the pressures from telemarketers should influence and weaken NJ's Do Not Call initiative. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
Rhonda Van Wingerden
